

FCS MEMBERSHIP – INFORMATION

When you join FCS

The FCS is the trade association for the radio, mobile and telecommunications services industry, with more than 25 years history of successful representation and influence in the industry. It is committed to the delivery of high standards of products and services in the communications industry and to working with companies in the industry to achieve these aims.

The mission of FCS is to promote a successful mobile and telecommunications industry in the UK by:

- Representing members interests
- Delivering customers expectations
- Improving and promoting standards
- Having regard for the environment

FCS welcomes applications from companies with a business interest in communications. Each application is advised to current FCS Members. Acceptance is at the sole discretion of the FCS Board of Directors and no reason need be given for refusal of applications.

The Federation of Communication Services Ltd is a company limited by guarantee owned by its members. On acceptance you will receive the FCS welcome pack containing the Memorandum of Articles of Association of the company, a certificate of membership, briefings and information on current events.

Member companies are also encouraged to join relevant FCS members Groups and participate in their programmes.
